Dear Mrs. Hall,

Yesterday afternoon, Miss Johnson of the Roger-Smith Hotel telephoned me stating that the umbrella which had been mislaid in their "call-for" baggage had now been found, and would I want to forward it along to you.

She gave me the address left with her and the umbrella is now on its way to the address listed below. I'm sorry if the incident caused you any convenience.

I do hope you enjoyed the rest of your trip and I only hope that you could all have spent a little more time in Washington. Please convey my very best wishes to Mrs. Bulkley, Mrs. Patterson, and Mrs. Blackford and her daughter, and with every good wish to yourself,

Sincerely,

Mrs. Mae L. Hall
